About IO 2007

IO 2007 will educate ophthalmologists and other medical professionals about the problem of eye disease in the developing world and how to be part of the solution. This conference will provide valuable information for those new to medical missions as well as those already volunteering abroad. The course objectives are to:

- understand ocular disease and treatment in the developing world
- gain insight into making effective volunteer medical trips
- learn to better care for international patients seen in your own practice

IO 2007 is being held at the same time as the 58th Annual Dogwood Festival, which celebrates the state flower of Virginia with an array of unique cultural events. Come enjoy spring in Charlottesville!

IO 2007 Conference Sponsors

IRIS: the International Response to Improve Sight is a nonprofit organization striving to end preventable blindness in the developing world through education, equipment donation, and encouragement of native health-care professionals.

The University of Virginia (UVa) Department of Ophthalmology has been providing outstanding eye care for more than 100 years. With IO 2007, the university's Eye Department continues its tradition of service to Virginia and beyond.

Registration Information

Accommodations

A block of rooms has been reserved under "International Ophthalmology" at the UVa Medical Center Courtyard by Marriott (434-977-1700) and at the Boar's Head Inn (434-296-2181). The conference room blocks will be released on March 19.

Registration

Registration may be completed online, by fax or by mail. For online registration, go to www.cmevillage.com, go to "conferences" and find the "register" button next to the International Ophthalmology 2007 listing. Online registration fees must be paid by either VISA or MasterCard.

To register by fax or mail, use the registration form in this brochure and send it to:

Bebe Moore, Registrar
Office of Continuing Medical Education
P.O. Box 800711
University of Virginia School of Medicine, McKim Hall
Charlottesville, VA 22908

Registration Fees

The conference registration fee is $250 for the combined Thursday and Friday sessions. Fees include syllabus materials, meals, and refreshments. Registration for individual sessions is permitted ($100 for Thursday session, reception, and dinner; $150 for Friday session, including a continental breakfast). Guests are welcome to attend the Thursday evening cocktail reception and dinner ($50 fee). The registration deadline is April 17, 2007.

Payment is required with registration. An exception is made for institutional checks; however, these must be received by April 17. If payment is not received by April 17, you will NOT be registered for the conference. You will receive written confirmation (by e-mail) upon receipt of your payment.

Pre-registration for this conference will close two business days (three days for online registrations) prior to the conference date. Please call to confirm that on-site registration will be available.

Confirmations and Cancellations

Upon receipt of registration and payment, registrant will receive an e-mail confirmation. If payment is not received by April 17, space will not be reserved. Registration fees will be refunded, less a $50 administrative fee, for cancellations received by April 4. No registration fee refunds will be granted for cancellations made after April 4. The UVa School of Medicine reserves the right to cancel CME activities if necessary. In that case, the full registration fee will be refunded. All other expenses incurred associated with this CME activity are the sole responsibility of the participant.

Special Needs

The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 requires that all individuals, regardless of their disabilities, have equal access. UVa's Office of Continuing Medical Education is pleased to assist participants with special needs. Written requests must be received by March 30. Mail requests to Tammy Eberly, Office of Continuing Medical Education, University of Virginia, Box 800711, Charlottesville, VA 22908 or e-mail request to uvacme@virginia.edu.

Continuing Education Credit

ACCME Accreditation

The UVa School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. UVa's School of Medicine designates this educational activity for a maximum of 6 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Each physician should claim only those credits that he/she actually spent in the activity.

UVa's Office of Continuing Medical Education requires that all participants at live CME activities sign attendance sheets daily to confirm participation in the CME activity for that day. Certificates of attendance, designating the maximum number of hours of participation, are distributed to each participant at the CME activity. Participants are responsible for accurately tracking their actual participation at live events.

Continuing Education Units

Also, UVa's School of Medicine awards an 0.1 Continuing Education Unit (CEU) per contact hour to each non-physician participant who successfully completes this educational activity. The CEU is a nationally recognized unit of measure for continuing education and training activities that meet specific educational planning requirements. UVa's School of Medicine maintains a permanent record of participants who have been awarded CEUs.

Disclosure of Faculty Financial Affiliations

The UVa School of Medicine, as an ACCME accredited provider, endorses and strives to comply with ACCME Standards of Commercial Support, Commonwealth of Virginia statutes, UVa policies and procedures, and associated federal and private regulations and guidelines on the need for disclosure and monitoring of proprietary and financial interests that may affect the scientific integrity and balance of content delivered in continuing medical education activities under our auspices. • UVa's School of Medicine requires that all CME activities accredited through this institution be developed independently and be scientifically rigorous, balanced, and objective in the presentation/discussion of its content, theories, and practices. • All faculty presenters participating in an accredited CME activity are expected to disclose relevant financial relationships with commercial entities occurring within the past 12 months (such as grants or research support, employee, consultant, stock holder, member of speakers bureau, etc.). UVa's School of Medicine will employ appropriate mechanisms to resolve potential conflicts of interest to maintain the standards of fair and balanced education to the reader. Questions about specific strategies can be directed to the Office of Continuing Medical Education, University of Virginia School of Medicine, Charlottesville, Va.

Disclosure of Discussion of Non-FDA Approved Uses for Pharmaceutical Products and/or Medical Devices

The UVa School of Medicine, as an ACCME provider, requires that all faculty presenters identify and disclose any off-label uses for pharmaceutical and medical device products. UVa's School of Medicine recommends that each physician fully review all the available data on new products or procedures prior to clinical use.
